

2.4 Lab Feedback

a) Relevance and length

The lab was very relevant and appropriate, and I found it interesting to work with TTN, LoRaWAN, and MQTT. However, it was quite long - I spent about five full days troubleshooting and completing all parts.

b) Suggested improvements

The task order felt a bit confusing and could be more structured. There were also too many references, which made it harder to stay focused.

Screen recording as part of the submission is very practical and much better than writing long reports.
